Hunting season for gobblers went out on May 15, but the scene above was photographed May 5, the day that Gov. Holton told hunters they could return to the woods, following substantial rainfall in many parts of Virginia. Leonard Garrett and Willie Watson did just that, with Leonard bringing back this handsome gobbler. Garrett, "Keen Eye" Watson, Teddy Garrett,(Leonard's son), and Gene Chernault were part of a four-some, with each hunter determined to get at least one bird before the deadline. Want to push the size of hog litters up? Here are three ideas that should help:

1. Hand breed sows. That way, you are sure each sow is bred.

2. Breed twice, 12 to 14 hours apart to two different boars if possible.

3. Double the feed for one day, the day after mating first occurs.

Sherwill 4-H'ers To Observe Rural Life Sunday

Members of Sherwill 4-H Club and their families are to worship as a body with Bethlehem United Methodist Church in Concordat eleven o'clock this Sunday morning. The Beta Club Singers of Appomattox Co. High School will render the special music for the service.

The occasion being Rural Life Sunday, an observance that was started for and by Agricultural People of the United States in 1929, for emphasizing the meaning of Christianity for the invocation of God's blessing upon the seed the fruits of the soil and the cultivators of the earth; for the consideration of justice for agriculture and the spiritual values of Rural Life. This day comes the fifth Sunday after Easter.

Leslie and Courtney King were guests of the Sherwill 4-H Club at the last regular meeting and each gave his demonstration and illustrated talk respectively in preparation for an area contest to follow in Roanoke.

It was reported that the following senior members received blue ribbons in Campbell County Contests: Carolyn Giles Dress Review; Jane Garrette, Public Speaking; Terry Coffee Photography; James Hancock, III, won in Electricity in the Junior Division.

The theme for June is Dairy Month was announced as "Milk Gives You Energy to Burn" and the posters made by 4-H'ers are to be on display in some public place until June 1 at which time they are to be judged in the 4-H Office.

Anne Muse Evans received information on Forest as a part of program.

The Club voted to make a donation of four blue vases to the Concord Fireman's Bazaar.

Devotions were given by Kathy Jones and refreshments were furnished by Priscella Clement.

Mrs. Janet Clement and Mr. Cary Carson met with the club.

A crowd pleaser was the Costume division with Mike Belter with his dachshound, "Budweiser", dressed in shirt, pants and cap. In second place, Bruce Galler; third place, Lt. E. Bryant; fourth, Lisa Mitchell and fifth, Debbie McFadden.

'Max' Wins Top Trophy

Kiss For A Winner

"Budweiser", the dachshound, seemed to know he would win a trophy and gave owner Mike Belter a kiss for good luck just before Sunday afternoon's judging in the 1st Annual 4-H Dog Show. Shure 'nuff – he did win a trophy and congratulations in the Costume Division. The show was held at King's Market with assistance from Lawson Ford, Inc. for trophies, ribbons and other help.

The show was judged a great success by 4-H leaders because of the wide participation. Included in the show, besides the winners listed above, were these 4-H members and their pets: Judy O'Brien, Sharon Paulette, Jerry Moore, Tom Austin, Pam O'Brien, Donald Parris, Carol McFaden, Judy Bryant.

Concession Stand

Lucky Clover 4-H Club sold refreshments. This committee also did a good bit of the clean up work. Members included Janet Hix, Jane Hix, Milton Ferguson, Jewel Williams, Kathy Ramsey, Brenda Ferguson, Hope Paulette, David Hix, Billie Brightwell, Pat Book and Janice Baldwin.

Ring Stewards

An Eighth Grade committee, Hal Smith, Mary Parris, Kim Harrison, and Judy Mayberry, assisted by many, many others, assisted with publicity posters, registration and served as ring stewards.

A Thank-You

Four-H leaders have expressed thanks to King's Market for space for the show; to Lawson Ford, Inc. as sponsors of a "dog chain" offering (in the future) puppies from a registered Malemute plus trophies and ribbons for Sunday's show. Also, to Percy George, auctioneer, for the public address system.

In charge of the show were Jesse Ford, extension agent, agriculture; Miss Lelia Mayton, extension agent, home economics; G. L. James, extension agent, agriculture.
